Alta L. Haynes
Died December 14, 1944

All members of our High School, whether faculty, students or parents, were deeply grieved at the loss of Miss Alta L. Haynes during this past year. It has been long since we have experienced so severe a blow to our school. It is true, her classes were taken over by another teacher, but we all realize that no one could fill her unique place. We all realize that our very best will not be sufficient to fill the breach caused by her untimely death.

The news of her passing leads us to investigate her record in some detail. A graduate of this High School, with the class of 1897, she began teaching almost immediately. For forty-two years she had been a member of the regular teaching staff of Wyandotte High School. During that entire time she was absent from her duties but eight days. During that time, for twenty-six years, continuously, she did not miss a single day of school. Her attitude toward her students, her co-workers, and the parents, was just as faithful and true as her attendance record. I have never known so outstanding a record of service as she has given us. Without question, her work always came first in her thinking.

We naturally think of the many ways in which her efforts here seem practically indispensable. Some of the best secretaries in greater Kansas City were trained in her classes. In her thinking, an efficient secretary, well trained, and with the right disposition toward her work, was an almost indispensable person in any business organization. Her students reflect her attitude wherever they go.

It remains for us all, co-workers and students, to carry on in the best way possible, thus ever keeping in mind the magnificent example Miss Alta L. Haynes has set for us.

Principal J. F. Wellemeyer

Superintendent

President of the National Education Association
Superintendent of the Kansas City, Kansas Schools
since 1932.

The highest educational honor of the nation came to Superintendent Schlagle and Kansas City, Kansas when, last summer, Mr. Schlagle was elected president of the National Education Association. Working with other national leaders in government, industry and education, Mr. Schlagle has initiated a vital educational program. The following paragraphs include a few of the ideas incorporated in that program.

Labor, industry, business, and government are all planning for the future. Their plans will fail unless there are people capable of carrying them out. That is why we must provide an educational opportunity for all citizens—wherever they live—whatever their present status in life—rich or poor, young or old, regardless of race, creed, or color. We must make sure that our best potential leadership is found and developed.

Our schools today are making indispensable contributions to the war effort. We pride ourselves upon our schools but the blunt truth is that in many regions and at many points our educational program is utterly inadequate. Three million American adults have never gone to school, 75% have not completed high school. At least 600,000 men have been rejected by the armed services for illiteracy. Selective Service reports that 5,000,000 registrants "are not physically fit to assume their responsibilities as citizens in war."

Illiteracy, ill health, and emotional instability hinder our progress in peace as well as in war. America cannot afford to permit these conditions to continue. Areas of educational neglect are fertile soil for discontent, degradation, and demagoguery. As a nation we have ample resources to provide an adequate educational training for all.

The United States must join with other nations in international planning and organization for education. It is unwise and unsafe for one or a few nations to educate for peace if other powerful nations at the same time educate for war. That was the story after World War I. Our State Department is now conferring with other United Nations on the role of education in post-war planning.

Principal

Principal of Wyandotte High School since 1924

Dean of the Kansas City, Kansas Junior College since 1924

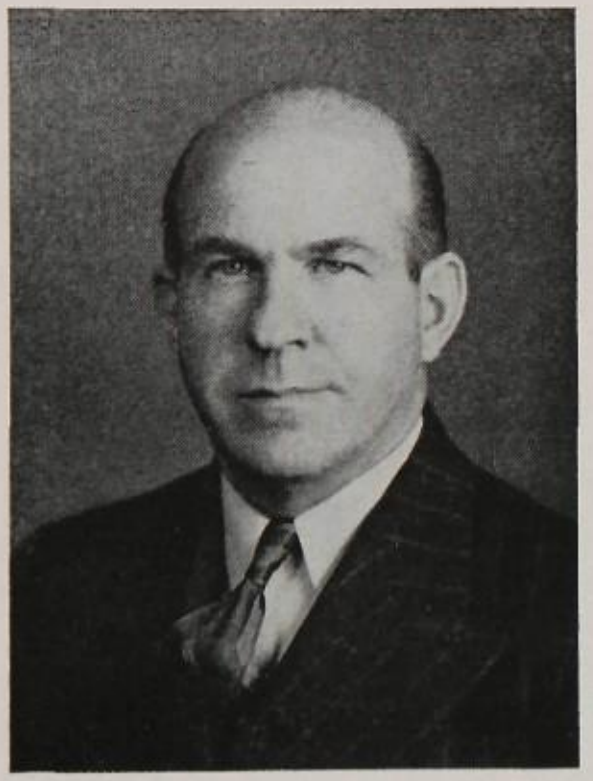
In the present days of stress and strain, we will do well to pause and consider just what this High School means to us, to this community and to the nation at large. It is the purpose of this article to set forth briefly, just what we mean when we speak of this school.

Wyandotte High School is not a mere building, fine as that may be. It is not a series of class rooms. Its outstanding characteristic may not even be its well qualified faculty or its 2,000 students. Wyandotte High School is a great institution, combining all of these elements and many more. For over fifty years it has been in the forefront nationally; in all great movements in secondary education. Our contact with this institution has been during the past twenty years. During this time the institution has emphasized and developed the following plans: a high school education for all, as a minimum; a differentiated curriculum to meet the needs of all; an emphasis on vocational training; student guidance and placement; physical fitness and health; and finally, mastery of fundamentals.

Of course, the most important of all at the present time, is training to meet the present national emergency. Wyandotte students are all over the world, fighting in the front line for the ideals for which this country stands. We hope our graduates will always be in the front line, fighting for high ideals wherever this may become necessary. Thus, as other needs arise, it shall be "The Glory of Wyandotte" to meet them.

J. F. Wellemeyer

Vice-Principal



J. CLYDE HUME

One of the most important functions of a high school office is the assembling and preservation of a system of records. All of your life, your record in Wyandotte High School will be referred to by government agencies, institutions of higher learning, and prospective employers. This includes attendance records which indicate punctuality and regularity, record of tests taken, record of subjects taken and your class standing on the basis of grades, and the record of extracurricular activities in which leadership and initiative have been displayed.

We in the office are keeping your records for future use. What we write on these records depends on you. Just a few weeks ago we received an inquiry from a New York City department store concerning the record of a member of our class of 1902. These are indeed permanent records of great importance to you and to those interested in you.

Director of Guidance

It is the specific responsibility of the Guidance Department of Wyandotte High School to provide students with the special information which they need in making important decisions. This special information is often about vocations and employment. It may concern further education. It will frequently be concerned with the personality of the student. Aptitude, interest, and personality tests given in the vocation classes to all in the sophomore year, and to others in the Guidance Office as the occasion warrants, help students understand their own personalities, their abilities, and their aptitudes.

Wyandotte's placement service is a part of the Guidance Department. Through it many students have been referred for part-time work during the school year and for vacation work.

Graduates and former students are always welcome to the Guidance Office, and to the assistance of the department in securing information on jobs with career possibilities.

Few schools offer such complete facilities in instrumental music as does Wyandotte. Students under G. Lewis Doll, instrumental music instructor, are given valuable opportunities to perform at various times throughout the year. Their appearances included the scheduled concerts by the Symphonic Band, the Symphony Orchestra, and the third annual Music Clinic assembly in which both groups participated. The Clinic enabled many students to receive sectional training from outstanding teachers of Kansas City. Guest conductor for the Clinic this year was N. De Rubertis, internationally known composer and conductor.

The vocal music department of Wyandotte has been outstanding for several years. Such groups as the Advanced Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and the A Cappella Choir (a mixed chorus of eighty select voices) perform in school concerts and programs throughout the city. In addition to the large group performances Miss Marguerite Theis, vocal music instructor, is often asked to furnish small ensembles and solos for clubs and city-wide organizations. Climaxing the music programs of the year was the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan light opera "H.M.S. Pinafore" by both of the music departments.

Cafeteria Lines

With gayly decorated trees, the Wyandotte cafeterias spread the Christmas spirit during the Yuletide season. Traditional holiday dishes were also featured. A new and successful plan for greater cafeteria democracy was initiated this year by student proctors who devoted an hour of their study period each day. Aiding in the serving lines and kitchen at various times this year have been several P.T.A. mothers. Plenty of good hot food at a low cost is provided each noon.

Dental Inspection

Approximately twenty-five senior girls aided prominent dentists in the annual dental inspection, held here in December. After a comparison with last year's records, a decided increase in the number of pupils having perfect teeth was clearly evident. After the examinations, which were given in study halls, each pupil was given a dental slip listing corrections needed. If improvements were made, the dental slips were to be returned to the school nurse, with the dentist's signature, and a statement of corrections. This inspection has given many students the opportunity of discovering faulty teeth at an early stage, thereby encouraging regular visits to the dentist.

Library

Few schools can boast a library so complete in every respect as that available to Wyandotte's student body. Approximately five-hundred students visit the library daily taking advantage of the 12,500 books and popular magazines. It is divided into three parts consisting of the periodical room, the general study room, and the reading room. Assisting the two regular librarians are twenty-four capable students who aid in the distribution, checking, and repairing of these books. Teachers and students may visit the library before and after school. Students' library passes are issued for those who wish to spend study hall period there.

Classes of 1946-47-48

By Caryl Laws

Juniors

The Junior class is sponsored by Mr. Francis Gregory. Boys of the Class of '46 are threatened by the clouds of a war that may soon take them to serve their country. However, many of these boys will find it possible to graduate before they go. "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" was presented this year. This three act play proved to be popular and a credit to the class. Another highlight of the year was the reception given for the Seniors in May. The Juniors face the climax of their high school career and we wish them much success.

This year's Sophomore class indeed should receive congratulations for the work it has done and the honor it has brought to Wyandotte. Guided by Miss Louise Timmer, it has shared in every activity. Knowing what is expected of them, they will not disappoint us in future triumphs at Wyandotte. Exceptional talent has been displayed in assembly programs, in athletics, and in music. This year has been very successful for the Class of '47 and we expect even better achievement in the next two years.

Freshmen

The Freshman class of this year is the luckiest class in Wyandotte. They have three more wonderful years before they graduate. Their first year under their class sponsor, Miss Nelle Cook, has been very eventful. In assemblies and other school activities much freshman talent has been displayed, and every one is looking forward to big things from the Class of '48. After choosing their courses and joining school clubs they are ready for three more active years. Here's wishing success to this Freshman class.

Kanine Kennels

By Barbara Hume

Under the sponsorship of the Kansas City Women's Service League, a youth center in the Kensington Park recreation building was opened October 28, for the students of Wyandotte. Very appropriately the center was named "Kanine Kennels." Dancing, competitive games, and food were the main features of teen town.

Students scrubbed floors and washed windows preparatory to the opening. Some of the men of the faculty laid the dance floor, members of the art department aided in painting various figures used in decorating the walls, and the Service League purchased the furniture and supplies. A soft drink bar and a juke box were installed in addition to the pingpong and checker tables.

The Service League members acted as supervisors, devoting certain hours each week to the center but the operation was carried on by committees of students themselves. Approximately eight hundred memberships were sold to the students at a dollar a piece and visitors were admitted for a fee of twenty-five cents.

The Swingmasters and music students highlighted the opening night and a special Christmas party was given December 22 featuring a "Truth and Consequences" program.

Bill Roy was chosen to serve as mayor of the "Doghouse" for the first semester with the Student Cabinet and Alternates composing the advisory council. Don Jolley was elected his successor for the months of February and March, choosing his own committees. Another election was held to provide a new mayor and council to serve the last two months, April and May.

Parties

By Barbara Hume

Parties and banquets made up a large part of the society life for the students of Wyandotte. The football and basketball teams were honored by the Kay Cees and their guests at the traditional banquets. The football party, December 1, was held at the Hotel Continental while the party honoring the basketball team was held at Quivera, April 5.

The first all-school mixer of the year, sponsored by the Girls' League, was held October 27 after the football game with Manhattan. The feature of the evening was a jitterbug contest.

The "Sweethearts Hop", after the Parsons game February 9, was sponsored by the Boys' "W" Club. The highlight of the evening was the election and crowning of the "King and Queen of Hearts."

The annual party of the music department was held the last of April.

The climax of the social season was the annual reception given by the Junior Class for the Seniors. It was held May 11 in the high school building.

Quiverian

By Mary Ellen Barker

Meet the gang behind the annual—the staff. Absent from the picture is Mr. Tharp, sponsor, who for the last two years has had his share of "sweating it out" for the Quiverian. He was always taking a picture —Steve Blum helped him out sometimes.

The Quiverian took shape as an eighty page dummy plus a hopeful light in the eyes of the staff. Joan Gregory and Cecilia Medved came to the aid of the editor, and Janet Gregory became a certified liner after having drawn up the pages for the senior section.

Cathy Place, an A. No. 1 artist, wore her pen down to a mere nubbin drawing the division pages that have been a deep dark secret up to now.

Irislee Shull and Agnes Sachen did most of the typing and organization work. Proof readers were Doris McMahon and Jeanne Aldridge. Connie Metaxas, Vie Jarvis, Joyce Merritt and Caryl Laws wrestled with the write ups for the "Goins' On" section.

Check Helen Atkisson footing her way around with those pictures. Having a photographer's daughter whose dad develops the pictures for us is quite handy.

As soon as senior pictures came in, Barbara Hume and Ruth Etta Maxwell immediately took over as heads of the cutting and pasting crew, a job that required skill and precision, well voiced by Hume's "Just a shade more." On that crew were Jean Spangler, Mary Frances Weaver, Elizabeth Hicks, Mardeen Bolze, Rebecca Davidson, Margaret Jett, Margie McCullough, and Nedra Korab.

And then comes the case of that hard working sports editor, one Don Younghans by name, who made the one request, "How about a poem?" Mr. Tharp couldn't quite see that, much to our relief and Don's disgust. Heh! Heh! Heh! Robert Young and John Scafe are in on the sports section.

Jackie Kauffman, all around girl athlete of Wyandotte, covering the girls' sports.

No need to tell you of shortages, etc., anyway why should we let you in on our trade secrets so "nuff said". It's your book now, hope you like it!!!

Pantograph

By Doris McMahon

Six girls and one boy faithfully sought, wrote, and edited The Pantograph in spite of shortages, difficulties which beset a small staff, and the loss of two sports editors at mid-semester graduation.

Although this has been the smallest staff in years, by hard work, often from two to four hours after most students had gone home, they succeeded in publishing issues which brought praise from readers all over the country.

Bill Northern and Warren Liston graduated at the half. Bill entered Kansas City, Kansas Junior College while awaiting his call to the service, and on March 7 left for the Army Air Corps. Warren was called to the service immediately.

Marjorie Imler and Jeanne Aldridge got The Pantograph off to a good start. Semester changes brought Doris McMahon, as editor. Don Younghans, second semester sports editor was ably assisted by Don Jolley, Dick Keltner, and Jim Wilcoxen. Several other cubs with an inherited "nose for news" also aided.

Jeanne Aldridge, Doris Lothman, and Doris Wilderman became news editors at the half. Second page was edited by Marjorie Imler and Esther Larkin. Dorothy Monahan and Norma Sayre were in charge of circulation. Advertising was handled by Candace Ann French, all year. In the absence of an experienced staff artist Harold Conroy, art student, drew the block cuts.

A unique special edition featuring servicemen's names and addresses originated from a letter-writing suggestion by Principal J. F. Wellemeyer. The practice of sending free Pantographs to all boys in the service was retained, with approximately three hundred boys receiving the paper each week.

This year's staff, under the direction of Miss Irene Newton, placed special emphasis on departmental organization with fixed responsibilities.

One of the main highlights of the year was the annual party, given by the cubs, in honor of the staff. Other activities undertaken by The Pantograph included the sponsoring of Scholastic Students Polls, and various Quill and Scroll contests. Honors came to Doris McMahon whose editorial received honorable mention in the Quill and Scroll Magazine.

Five staff members received membership in the Quill and Scroll organization. They were: Jeanne Aldridge, Doris Lothman, Marjorie Imler, Doris McMahon, and Doris Wilderman.

The twenty-eighth issue rolled off the presses into the hands of 1800 students, over 95 per cent of the student body, climaxing the twenty-sixth eventful year of "Panto Producing." Thus, the paper's purpose, "to encourage, to honor, and to serve," was fulfilled.

Debate

By Mary Cecilia Medved

Boasting the first all-girl debate team in its history, Wyandotte participated in a season which culminated with the Barkingdogs capturing second place at the state meet at Lawrence, Kansas.

Traveling to Pittsburg in October, the Jensenites battled their way through to the finals where they took second after bowing to Shawnee Mission.

The debaters again took second place at Shawnee Mission, being defeated for the second straight year by William Chrisman in the finals.

In the Wyandotte tournament the Bulldogs qualified for the finals but withdrew out of courtesy to their guests.

Although the team placed second in the regionals, they were invited to compete in the state finals where they succeeded in taking second place.

National Forensic League

Students participating in speech and debate have the opportunity of becoming members of the National Forensic League, an honor society for those who do outstanding work in these fields.

To become a member, one must fulfill basic requisites which consist of earning points through participation in the field of forensics. After acquiring the necessary points, a student may apply for membership. Students applying for membership must be in the upper third of their class and receive the recommendation of the school principal. All new members are first approved by national officers.

After membership is attained, degrees of honor, excellence, and distinction may be earned by continued participation in either speech or debate. Each member is awarded a small key with different jewel settings according to the degree he has earned.

National Thespian

By Joan Gregory

Outstanding dramatists are admitted to the National Thespian Society after earning ten points through acting, committee, or crew work. Additional points may be earned toward the rank of Honor Thespian. All members may wear the comedy and tragedy mask pin.

Dramatics Club

Behind the actors in a play are stage crews, ticket and publicity committees, make-up crews, property crews, and others. Therefore the Dramatics Club is open to those whose interest lies in any of these fields or in acting. Drama students are automatically members while others are chosen by try-outs held early in the year.

Experience, deeper understanding of the theater, and good times result from the monthly meetings. The annual play and a party were featured projects this year.

The Bashful Bachelor

The Kay Cees presented the first play of the year, "The Bashful Bachelor," which showed the amusing web of circumstances that can develop when a bachelor author who has no use for women finds himself conducting lectures at a girls' college. He discovers he is the hero of every girl on the campus, except one. Since this girl, who feels that the author is superficial and conceited, is the only one he really likes, it complicates the scene.

An amusing situation occurs when the stiffly correct old lady who controls the college finds the author's room full of admiring girls, behind curtains and under tables. In spite of these troubles and a burglary, the play ends happily.

Senior Play

Heaven Can Wait

Comedy touches lightened the serious theme of "Heaven Can Wait," senior play presented in December. The play illustrated what happens when a man's body dies before his soul.

A prizefighter, Joe, dies in an airplane crash, but according to the books in heaven, his soul is not due there yet. So Mr. Jordan, who is in charge of such affairs, sets off with Joe to find a new body. Joe's soul, temporarily lodged in the body of a selfish millionaire murdered by his wife, rights a number of wrongs, becomes involved in the murder case, and isn't entirely happy.

Finally, with the help of Mr. Jordan, he enters the body of another prizefighter. As he realizes the girl he loved as a millionaire still loves him, the play ends with the song "Where or When."

Junior Play

By Joan Gregory

Passing of Third Floor Back

Juniors achieved success with their deeply moving presentation of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back" in February.

The occupants of a dingy London rooming house are shabby, discontented, and quarrelsome. Their sole aim in life seems to be selfish, with no family or personal pride until one day the Stranger comes to rent a room.

Slowly and miraculously their lives and personalities change. Stasia, the little Cockney maid, combs her hair and washes her face. The landlady puts no more water in the milk. A struggling artist turns back to true art, and a middle-aged woman puts aside artificiality for her true self. Then the Stranger leaves. But Stasia stands in the sunlight and feels his presence as the curtain falls.

H. M. S. Pinafore

For the first time in several years the vocal music department presented a light opera, "H.M.S. Pinafore," as their annual production. The story reveals the hardships suffered by the captain who loves a woman socially inferior to him, and the captain's daughter whose lover is only a sailor.

This Gilbert and Sullivan operetta was presented in two performances, a matinee for activity ticket holders, and an evening performance. As well as excellent singing and acting, the presentation featured several amusing dances. In addition to those with individual parts, the cast included a chorus of 100 voices from the Advanced Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs.

Assemblies

Talent Show Winners: First—Colleen Spaight, second—Jim Davidson, third—David Day, fourth—Christine Mathews.
Lieutenant Filbert Munoz '40—hero of Cassino.
Cheerleaders Irislee Shull and Dale Morman conduct quiz at pep assembly.

Music, drama, lectures, magic—all of these have been included in the schedule of assemblies, which Wyandotte students have had the opportunity of attending this year.

To acquaint the girls with Wyandotte clubs, the Girls' League assembly was held on Sept. 26. Wing Commander Christopher Currant spoke to an all school assembly on Oct. 6, and Navy Day was observed with a Navy motion picture. Loring Campbell, famous magician and ventriloquist, demonstrated his mystifying tricks and illusions on Oct. 30.

The annual Hi-Y Talent Show, presented on Nov. 2, gave talented "W" students an opportunity to perform before an all-school assembly. During the later part of November, James Gheen, well-known humorist and philosopher, addressed the student-body on the topic, "Humor is the Protective Armor of Democracy." Dr. Willis E. Sutton, educator and famed youth lecturer, spoke in assembly; and Dr. Neal Bowman of Temple University talked on improvement of relations between management and employee.

Efrem Kurtz directed the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra in a double concert on Nov. 28 and again on Feb. 27. On both occasions the orchestra presented two programs—the first for high school students, and the second, which immediately followed the first, for elementary schools.

Assemblies

December marked the presentation of the annual orchestra concert, and the traditional Christmas assembly. Preceding these, the wonders of electricity and chemistry were demonstrated by Harry C. White in an assembly Dec. 12.

Portraying the various characters and completing 35 costume changes, Jack Rank, the one-man theatre, presented Macbeth on Jan. 8. Other assemblies in January included George Staples, magician; the freshmen assembly built around the theme, Kansas; and an annual Band concert.

One of the "never to be forgotten programs" was the Lincoln-Berlin assembly. Based on the theme of intercultural relationship, and given Jan. 12 in honor of Abraham Lincoln, it featured the compositions of Irving Berlin. On Jan. 19 Sam Grathwell spoke about the FBI and explained how the "G"-Man received his name.

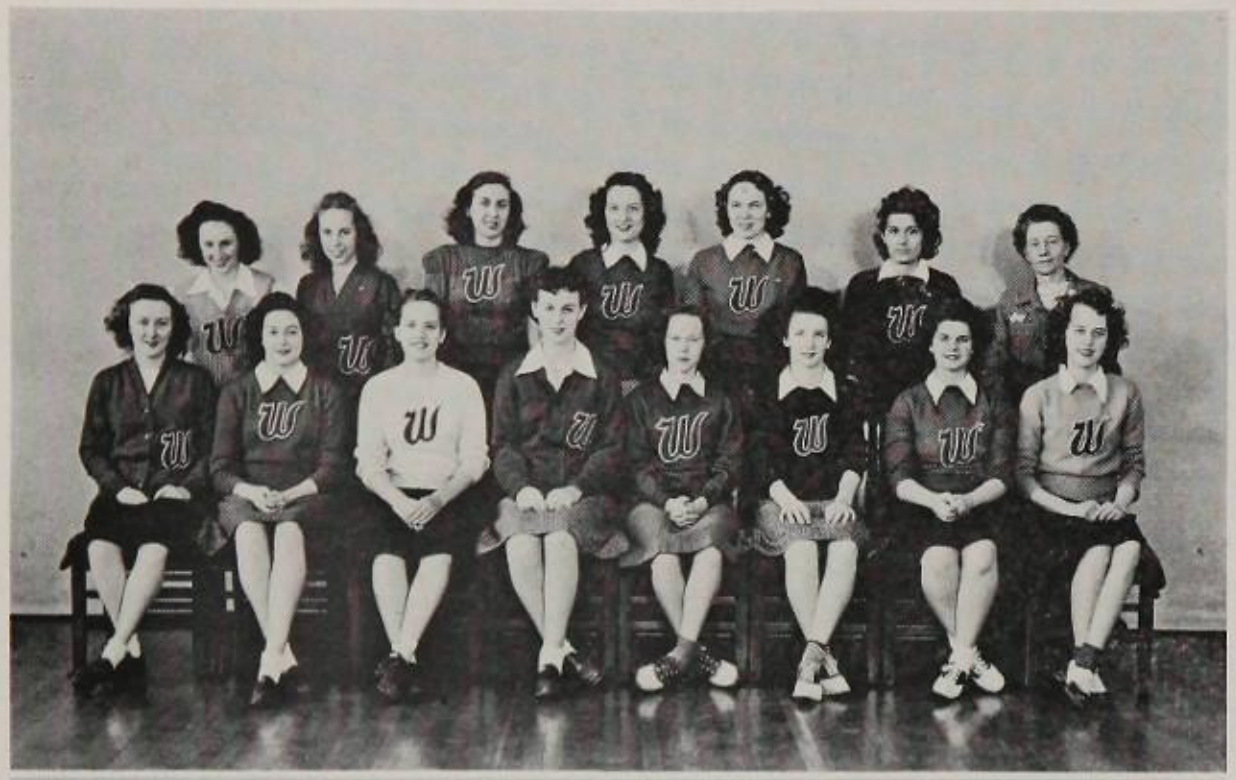
Terminating the band clinic in March a combined orchestra and band concert was presented under the direction of Mr. N. de Rubertis. In April Stuart Carnes, explorer, archaeologist, and metallurgist, spoke to students about the lost cities of the Mayas in the Yucatan jungles.

In addition there were the pep assemblies with the Kay Cees and cheerleaders on hand to stimulate school pep and spirit. Assemblies this year have again shown that they are a vital part of our school program.

Flag Salute; Wing Commander Currant of the R. A. F.; Coach Starbuck talks of football prospects; Navy Day Assembly with Storekeeper Stern; Pep rally.

Clubs

By Constance Metaxas



Girls' W

Membership in the Girls W Club is based on a point system. Any girl earning 600 points by faithful participation in after school activity automatically becomes a member and is awarded a "W." An annual event of the club is the initiation of new members. The "W" Club was originated in 1920 but was then known as the "K" Club.

Hollywood

Thanks are in order to Hollywood Club members who operate the movie projectors throughout the year. The part they enact in Wyandotte's educational program is indispensable and appreciated by students and faculty. Films shown in 128, the Recital Hall, and other classrooms are run by these boys. They also manage the public address system wherever it is used.

Allied Youth

The principal purpose of the Allied Youth organization is the education of the individual and society concerning the harmful effects of beverage alcohol. This group also strives for temperance which they believe includes moderation in all things.

They hope to achieve their aims through watching motion pictures and slides on the subject and through talks and programs presented by some of their members. Two of their outstanding programs were conducted by Dean Stringer, recreation director of the Young Kansas Citians Club, and a representative of Alcoholics Anonymous. Entertainment, too, was a part of their yearly program as was well evidenced by the spring party.

Allied Youth Officers were Lawrence Channell—president, Barbara Hume—vice president, Margaret Meeks—secretary, Rebecca Davidson—treasurer, Don Seamans—membership, Joan Duvall—social.

On November 17, 1944, the Wyandotte High School Bulldogs brought to a close a successful football season. The Bulldogs have a season record of 6 won, 2 lost, one tied—an average of .722.

It can well be said that passing was the salvation and the downfall of the Starbuck crew. It was a long pass that gave Central high, Kansas City, Missouri, a 6-0 victory over Wyandotte in the opening game of the season.

In the second game against Shawnee Mission it was the fine passing of sophomore back, Don Wilson, to end Don Roberts, that collected six points. Wilson also plunged for the extra point which eventually won the game. Wyandotte was leading 7-0 late in the last quarter when Shawnee scored. They failed to make the extra point when Lawrence Channell, guard, broke through the Indian line and made the tackle that saved the game for Wyandotte.

Again in the third game it was the passing of Wilson, with Bob Mackish on the pay-off end, that beat Leavenworth 7-0. Wilson's pass to Don Roberts was also good for the point after touchdown.

The fourth game was the one that the Bulldogs were out to win. Ward! Although the Wyandotte eleven was out-weighed man for man, it went in the game with enough fighting spirit to come out on top of a 19-13 score. It was the fine plunging by Dan Westerman and Don Wilson, effective end running by Bill Roy, and superb blocking by Kite Verbenec that brought victory.

Seeming to like the score of 19-13 the Bulldogs went on the next week to beat Argentine. It was only a few minutes after the game started that Argentine led 7-0, and before the end of the second quarter the scoreboard read 13-0. Wyandotte was by no means beaten. Ron Roberts, Canine captain, recovered a Mustang fumble that set up a touchdown. Wyandotte came back in the third quarter with a 75 yard drive that sent Westerman plunging over for the touchdown. With the score tied in the last period Argentine again drove toward the goal, but Wilson intercepted a pass on his own 10 yard line and ran 90 yards for a touchdown and victory.

In the next game of the season Wyandotte battled the powerful Manhattan Redskins to a 6-6 deadlock. Traveling to St. Joe to play Central High a week later, the Bulldogs went on a scoring spree in the last half to win 45-0. Staying on the road the next week the Bulldogs went to Springfield, Missouri and downed a stubborn team 13-0. Westerman and Wilson made the touchdowns. Wyandotte closed the season by bowing to the Topeka Trojans 7-0.

Duane Hosmann had the honor of being chosen as a tackle on the All-Kansas team. Don Wilson was picked for third-string all-state, and Ron Roberts was given honorable mention. Each year the Kansas City Kansan selects an all-city team. Five Bulldogs made the 1944 edition: Captain Ron Roberts, Don Roberts, Don Wilson, Kite Verbenec and Duane Hosmann.

Under the coaching of Marion A. Wools the Wyandotte Basketeers took to the hardwoods late in November. Coach Wools had four returning lettermen around which to build his 1944-45 squad. These were Don Roberts, Bob Mackish, Ron Roberts, and Marvin Stark.

The Bulldogs dropped their first game of the season to a faster Northeast five 40-30. Wyandotte started a rally in the last half but Northeast had built up too big a lead for the Canines to overcome.

The Woolsmen held the lead throughout the whole Central game until the last three minutes. Here the Central Eagles started a rally which was to cause the Bulldogs to fall in a 35-31 defeat.

Following a week of hard workouts the Bulldogs jaunted to Shawnee-Mission to play the Indians on their own court. The Bulldogs held a slight lead throughout the whole game and stalled the last minute to win their first game of the season 24-23.

Wyandotte stayed home the next week to win an easy 43-15 victory over the Olathe Eagles. Wyandotte pulled off to an early lead and kept dropping in the goals throughout the game.

It took an overtime and sudden death period for the Canines to down a stubborn Argentine five 31-30. Argentine was ahead by one point and there was only eighteen seconds left in the game when Ron Roberts calmly flipped in a charity toss to tie the score. Bob Mackish put Wyandotte ahead in the overtime period but Stephenson of Argentine stole the ball and tied the score again. Coons made a free throw for the Mustangs in the sudden death period but Lawrence (Phog) Lemmon sunk a side shot to give Wyandotte a well earned victory.

The Bulldogs started on the first road trip of the season the following week, on which they played Topeka and Lawrence. Unable to find the basket in the first half, the Canines suffered a 42-29 defeat at the hands of the Topeka Trojans. Traveling on to Lawrence the following night the Woolsmen rebounded to down the Lawrence Lions by a 37-31 score.

The following week the Bulldogs lost a heartbreaker to the Ward Cyclones 25-24. The Bulldogs were ahead at the half 12-8, but the Cyclones struck back in the third quarter to down the Wyandotte five.

After bowing to Ward the Canines came back strong the next week to down a helpless Emporia five 56-22. The Bulldogs held Emporia to four field goals.

The Woolsmen kept their winning ways the next week by beating Rosedale 43-19. This was Wyandotte's sixteenth straight victory over Rosedale.

Traveling out state the next week the Bulldogs dropped a close game to Salina, 37-41.

Shawnee Mission came over to Wyandotte the next week, and in their second meeting the Canines firmly trounced the Indians 37-25.

Wyandotte bowed to a fast Parsons squad the following week 36-29, but came back on the next Tuesday to beat Argentine for the second time 42-30.

It was "sweet revenge" as the Bulldogs downed the highly respected Topeka Trojans 26-24 in their second encounter.

Still on the repeat trail the Bulldogs downed Emporia the next week 50-22. Marvin Stark scored 21 points for the Canines.

The Bulldogs bowed to a strong Hutchinson crew the next night 27-23 and the following week were beaten by their old rivals, Ward, 29-25, for the second time. This ended the regular season.

The Canines traveled to Shawnee Mission the next week, and with a 48-30 win over Leavenworth on Friday, and a 30-21 victory over Shawnee on Saturday, won the regional championship.

In the state semi-finals, held here at Wyandotte, the Bulldogs won their first game by a 42-25 score from Pittsburg, but they were eliminated by Topeka the next night 30-27, and another successful basketball season ended for Wyandotte High School.

Not much hope of winning the state championship was held when Wyandotte's natators started practice late in November. With steady work under the supervision of Coach W. D. Roy, they did splash their way to a third consecutive state championship.

The Waterdogs had five returning lettermen to start the season: Duane Hosmann, Bob Randell, Dan Westerman, Dee Roy, and Captain Bill Roy.

North High of Des Moines beat the Waterdogs in the initial meet of the season by a 39 to 27 count. Des Moines had three all-stars swimming on their team. The following week the swimmers sank the North High swimmers of Wichita 36 to 30. The natators went to Wichita the next week and dropped two meets, one to East and the other to North. East came to Wyandotte the next week and were beaten by the Waterdogs 36 to 30.

Two years

The state meet was next, so after a week of hard workouts the team left for Wichita to defend their state crown, an honor they have had for the last two years. The Roy-men made it three years straight when they out swam East at the state meet for their third straight state crown. Wyandotte had 44 points in the meet to 42 for East. North had 38 and Coffeyville 28.

The Waterdogs had two meets with schools from Kansas City, Missouri, this year. In the first meet Coach Roy used most of his second stringers in turning back Paseo 33 to 24. Northeast came over the next week to be beaten by the same group 31 to 25.

In early March Coach Lester Ramsey called for track men to report for spring training. Among those reporting were nine returning lettermen from the 1944 squad: Duane Hosmann, captain, weights; H. L. Hammond, broad jump, dashes, 440; Bill Roy, 440, broad jump half mile; Jack Phillips, dashes, 440, javelin; Wallace Snoderly, dashes; Ralph Boyd, 440; Hugh McCaughey, hurdles, high jump; Dale Harvey, weights; and Pat Nugent, pole vault.

This year dual meets were scheduled with Shawnee Mission and Argentine. Wyandotte again held its invitational meet, and entered men in the Kansas University Relays, the quadrangular meet, and the state meets.

Last year Wyandotte sponsored a big invitational track meet and Coach Ramsey hopes to make it an annual affair. In the 1944 edition Topeka, Shawnee Mission, Lawrence, Ottawa, and Wyandotte were the leaders.

In the city meet held here, the 1944 Cinderdogs took 72 points to place second behind Shawnee Mission. All three relay teams captured firsts, as did Glen Channell, McCaughey, and Hammond in their individual events.

The Thinclads scored 9½ points in the K. U. Relays. Captain Channel finished second in the 440 yard dash and two relay teams placed.

Making the trip to the quadrangular meet in Topeka, Wyandotte placed ahead of Ottawa and Emporia but behind Topeka as Channell, Nugent, Budelovich and Hammond scored first places.

At the Lawrence regionals, Shawnee Mission placed first with Wyandotte trailing in third place. The state meet was held at Wichita where H. L. Hammond captured a fourth in the broad jump and the mile relay team a fifth.

Baseball

By Robert Young

Coach Ward L. Neel had eight returning lettermen to start the 1945 baseball season. Included were: Clay Coburn, Ray Vusich, Bill Delich, Walter Martin, Bud McPherren, Eugene Bukaty, Sidney Rose, and Francis Mason. A nice schedule was worked out which included games with Topeka, Rockhurst and Pembroke Country Day.

Last year's team won four games while losing three. The 1944 scores were:

Wyandotte	6	Rockhurst	4
Wyandotte	4	Rockhurst	0
Wyandotte	12	Rockhurst	4
Wyandotte	12	Haskell	3
Wyandotte	3	Topeka	6
Wyandotte	2	Kansas State Prison	8
Wyandotte	1	Topeka	4

Tennis

Wyandotte's tennis team this year was made up of five players chosen from the group of fifteen who came out at the beginning of the season. Three members of the team—John Carlson, Don Medearis, and Dave Nesser lettered in tennis in 1944. Medearis was also captain of this years team. Helping the boys with tennis during the season was Norman Williams, a former Wyandotte tennis star. High hopes were held for a successful season of play.

In the spring of 1944 the Wyandotte tennis team won four out of their six regular meets. Argentine and Wentworth were both beaten twice by the Canine netsters while Topeka was able to win twice.

Girls' Athletic Association

By Jackie Kauffman

Back court: Mary Huska, Jean Roberts, Jackie Kauffman, Norma Lee Jones, Maxine Austin, Voniece Jones, Virginia Dimsdale.

Besides the usual activities of the Girls' "W" Club, such as social and business meetings, tournaments, and letter awards, the Girls Athletic Association was organized this year. It successfully sponsored two all-city "Sports Days," with Northwest, Central Junior, Rosedale, Argentine, and Wyandotte high schools participating. Each school was represented by two teams.

The first, a volleyball tournament, was held November 3. Wyandotte took first and second place, when the senior team "Barnett's Babies," and the underclassman team "Up and At 'Em," both defeated Argentine and Rosedale teams. When the two home teams met across the net the underclassmen with a surprise attack defeated the seniors. Central Junior, also placed first and second in the junior high division.

March 9, was the date set for basketball sports day. Captains of each team drew lots for their courts and opponents. Argentine and Rosedale, played each other first, and the two Wyandotte teams, captained by Rose Turk and Jackie Kauffman met. Argentine beat Rosedale, and Kauffman's team defeated Turk's team. Winners played winners, and losers played losers, and in the finals Wyandotte took first and Argentine second. Rosedale and Central Junior tied for the title in the junior high tournament.

Northwest was host for the softball sports day in April, and Wyandotte concluded the year by having for its third event—an all-city "Play Day." Games of all kinds were played and the pool was open.

The Swimming Club is made up of girls who are interested in advanced swimming and diving. Fourteen girls passed their life-saving tests this year, four the senior test, and nine the junior test. In April the club presented a "Swimming Demonstration."

Third row: Dolores Billie Pietrzyk, Hazel McConnell, Mary Moser, Carolyn Hardsaw, Barbara Nelson, Rose Turk, Loretta Chushuk.

Class of 1945

As the Senior Class of "45" draws four years of dashing around Wyandotte to a halt, we pause as we glance back to the year 1941, when we were eager freshmen, small in number and size. The boys had their eye on sports, dreaming of the time when a lucky few of them would carry on the traditions that have always made Wyandotte a hard school to beat. Incidentally, the football team won the state championship that year.

As sophomores, we gained the annual distinction of being the largest class in school and found many friends among the new arrivals from Northwest and Central Junior. The transition to Juniors was made easily enough. Our Junior Play, "Ever Since Eve" was as gay as we were. Then there were the mixers in the gym after games. The Kay Cee Banquets came along, but the real affair for the Juniors was the Junior-Senior Prom.

In 1945, we took the "about Wyandotte" pose of seniors. The officers elected were Don Roberts—president, Bill Roy—vice president, Arleen Feldkamp—secretary, and Margaret Meeks—treasurer. Mr. Gray took on the job of class sponsor. Doing things in a big way, as our class has always, the organization of Kanine Kennels, alias the "Doghouse," hangout for the gang, was THE thing.

In February, the death of Miss Alta L. Haynes, who had an outstanding record at Wyandotte and was well liked by all, caused great concern and sadness in the hearts of those who knew her.

Our team outswam 4 other schools to capture the state swimming championship, holding it for three consecutive years, a thing which has never been done before.

A committee selected the class rings and announcements. The last of the year whirled with Kay Cee Banquet, Junior-Senior Prom, and then—senior week.

Not to be forgotten are the summer school grads and the boys who left these halls to join forces with Uncle Sam.

As the days fly by, we'll be remembering the friends we've made and the teams we've yelled for, and the many little incidents that made life interesting.

We are leaving fortified by 4 years of "good old Wyandotte." We know that we can meet and conquer the challenges to come as well as our boys have who are in every corner of the world. With the "Glory of Wyandotte" ever in our memory, we will keep liberty and freedom forever in our minds and hearts.

National Honor Society

By Ruth Etta Maxwell

Out of Wyandotte's 1800 students there are those who contribute most to their school in the related realms of scholarship, service, character, and leadership. The school, in gratitude, seeks to reward this contribution by naming these students as members of the National Honor Society.

Organized twenty-four years ago, the national society today is composed of 2700 chapters throughout the United States. This year Wyandotte Chapter No. 331 was increased by 66 members. Membership is determined by vote. The faculty members rank the students in the order of which they are deserving—using as a basis of judgment mutual association in classes and contributions to their school. After deliberation and discussion, fifteen percent of the upper third of the senior class are named as members. Thus the school has another group to participate in the traditional sacred flame ceremony.

Quill and Scroll

By Ruth Etta Maxwell

Seated Jeanne Aldridge, Mary Catherine Place, Mary Ellen Barker, Ruth Etta Maxwell, Barbara Hume.

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free." This is the motto of the Quill & Scroll Society, an international society for high school journalists. The society was organized April 10, 1926, by a group of high school supervisors for the purpose of encouraging individual achievement in journalism. The organization is backed by America's outstanding journalists and educators.

According to the constitution the students must meet the following requirements:

They must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing; have done outstanding work in some phase of journalism, be recommended by the supervisor, and be approved by the national secretary.

There are no dues, but, when a student is accepted as a member of the society he pays two dollars. This amount pays for the gold pin and a year's subscription to the Quill and Scroll magazine.

This year's ten members were nominated by Miss Newton of the Pantograph and Mr. Tharp of the Quiverian.
